

TRR60 International Symposium

UNIVERSITÄT
DUISBURG
ESSEN

Open-Minded

New approaches to prevent or cure chronic viral infections

(Preliminary programme)

Scientific talks presented by TRR60 (China/Germany) and the following guest speakers (scheduled):

Mark Connors, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda

Ben Berkhout, Academic Medical Center, Amsterdam

Antonio Bertoletti, Duke-NUS Medical School, Singapore

Michael A. Eller, US Military HIV Research Program, MHRP Headquarters, Bethesda

Oliver Fackler, University Hospital Heidelberg

Kim Hasenkrug, Retroviral Immunology Section, NIAID/DIR, Hamilton/Montana

Florian Klein, University Hospital Köln

Frank Kirchhoff, University Hospital Ulm

Christian Münz, University of Zürich

Barbara Rehermann, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda

Mario Santiago, University of Colorado, Aurora

Yiming Shao, State Key lab for Infectious Disease Control and Prevention, Beijing

Hong Tang, Institut Pasteur, Shanghai

Robert Thimme, University Hospital Freiburg

Jianguo Wu, Wuhan University, Wuhan

Monday, 6 November, 17:00h (registration and reception)

University Hospital Essen, Deichmann Auditorium LLZ

18:00h: Keynote talk by Dr. Barbara Rehermann

Differential contribution of viral infection and gastrointestinal microbiota to local and systemic immune responses.

Tuesday/Wednesday, 7-8 November (8:30h t.b.a.)

Robert-Koch-Haus, Institute for Virology

More info and detailed programme: www.uni-due.de/trr60/events organized by:

SFB TRR60
www.uni-due.de/trr60